

Pension Actuarial Analyst

Horizon Actuarial Services, LLC (Horizon Actuarial) is looking for a math and benefits enthusiast to join our Pension practice fulfilling the role of Actuarial Analyst.

About Horizon Actuarial

Horizon Actuarial commenced operations in February 2008, when Watson Wyatt Worldwide (now known as Willis Towers Watson), a leading multinational consulting firm, exited its multiemployer and Taft-Hartley plan consulting business and spun it off to a new company, Horizon Actuarial. The founders of Horizon Actuarial were all associates of Watson Wyatt. Since we started operations, we have grown from 23 Associates to 80 Associates with major offices in Maryland, Georgia, and California.

We provide a wide array of actuarial and consulting services directly to multiemployer defined benefit pension plans and multiemployer health and welfare plans. We have always viewed our role as actuaries and consultants whose responsibility is to protect the interests of the plan participants by keeping all trustees, both labor and management, well-informed and well-equipped to navigate the challenges facing their plans.

Horizon Actuarial is committed to treating associates very well. We understand that candidates have a multitude of choices in where they choose to work. That's why we go above and beyond to maintain a culture of inclusiveness. Regardless of where associates work, whether it be at their home office or one of our physical offices, associates remain connected. The opportunities that we create to come together to collaborate and connect with each other instill a sense of belonging in our associates.

A Day in the Life as an Analyst

The Pension Actuarial Analyst (Analyst) position provides an opportunity for eligible candidates to apply analytical and problem-solving skills to meet the needs of multiemployer pension plan clients. The Analyst will work, independently and in a team environment, under the guidance and mentorship of talented consultants and will have the opportunity to advance within the company. The company will help support the Analyst in their pursuit of actuarial credentials through a competitive actuarial exam program.

The Pension Actuarial Analyst will work a hybrid schedule consisting of at least 3 days in our Silver Spring, MD, Atlanta, GA, or Los Angeles, CA office.

Below are a few examples of the responsibilities in this role:

- Complete actuarial valuations for multiemployer pension plans under the supervision of experienced actuaries and consultants
